

Jen Ford
Portfolio Specialist, Ninety One

Jennifer is a portfolio specialist in the 4Factor team at Ninety One, responsible for product management across the range of strategies with a primary focus on Emerging Markets, Asia and China. In this role, Jennifer represents the team and its strategies with clients, as well as helping to develop solutions for clients and dealing with complex queries. Prior to joining Ninety One, Jen was a portfolio specialist at JPMorgan Asset Management in its US Equities team for five years and its Emerging Markets Asia Pacific Equities team for four years. Jen started her career in New York at Goldman Sachs Asset Management, where she was a portfolio specialist in the Quantitative Investment Strategies Group covering both long-only and hedge fund strategies. Jen earned a degree in Bachelor of Arts from Columbia University.